

CBSE creates 'Hubs of Learning' to encourage collaboration among schools

In order to ensure enhancement of quality of education and to promote self improvement, CBSE has framed groups of 4-6 neighbourhood schools for collaborative growth. These groups will form Hubs of Learning.

"The main aim of this collaborative partnership between schools is to create an ecosystem for the schools to effectively take up all-round self-improvement. This collaboration will not only allow exposure to best practices, but also the possibility of adaptation or replication of these practices," a statement released by CBSE said.

CBSE also emphasized that small schools with limited resources can teach as much as any large school with several resources.

Through this initiative, schools in the area will be able to share a range of ideas, instructional and assessment strategies which would help individual teachers to improve classroom practices and contribute to their continuous professional development.

The areas on which the schools are expected to collaborate which includes academic collaboration, resource sharing, professional development of teachers, staff, systematic reforms, etc.

The schools which are part of the Hub are :-
